

STATE COULD SEIZE AND OPERATE COAL MINES

POWER OF EMINENT DOMAIN OR POLICE POWER GIVES RIGHT

Written Opinion Given Former Governor
Lowden by Attorney General Brundage—Opinion Outlines Plan of Procedure, State's Duties and Obligations and Compensation

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 19.—The state may seize and operate coal mines in Illinois either under the power of eminent domain or the police power, Attorney General Edward J. Brundage held in a written opinion he submitted to former Governor Frank O. Lowden in August, 1917. Answering three questions propounded at that time by Lowden, as to the power of the state to take over the mines and legislation necessary to accomplish such a step, Attorney General Brundage said:

"Undoubtedly the state does have power to seize and operate the coal mines in this state. This power does not flow out of an emergency; it is inherent in the very nature of the government itself."

This opinion of five years ago, prompted by the possibility of taking over the mines as a war measure, was recalled here today by state officials who discussed it in the light of the present emergency.

PROGRESSIVES PILE UP VOTE THRU NEBRASKA

Returns Indicate Close
Race Between Many Candidates

(By The Associated Press)
OMAHA, Neb., July 19.—A real contest has developed in the Nebraska primary. As returns continued to come in during the day and tonight the gubernatorial race between Charles H. Randolph, of Randolph, and Adam McMullen, of Beatrice, became more intense than ever and with 1504 precincts out of 1913 reporting Randolph had a lead of only 351. The votes: Randolph, 40,293; McMullen, 38,942.

The Democratic gubernatorial clash was almost as hotly contested and with 1499 precincts reporting, Charles W. Bryan, brother of W. J. Bryan, had a lead of 797. The vote in this contest stood: Bryan, 22,741; Butler, 21,944.

Votes for Senators

The progressive Republicans swept the state with their votes in the United States senatorial primary. R. B. Howell continued to pile up a lead while another progressive Republican, Clarence A. Davis, attorney general, was only a few hundred votes behind Albert W. Jeffers, Omaha congressman, for second place, and still another progressive C. H. Gustafson, was running rather a strong fourth. The vote in this race stood, 1492 precincts out of 1913: Howell 33,853; Jeffers 21,697; Davis 21,208; Gustafson 14,869.

Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock ran away from his field in the Democratic senatorial primary and polled a vote of almost three to one over his nearest opponent.

All Heads In Rail Strike Controversy Drawing Closer

COMPLETE CHARGE ILLINOIS AFFAIRS IN SMALL'S HANDS

Declaration of Martial
Law in Mine Areas
Not Likely

(By The Associated Press)
BATTLE CREEK, Mich., July 19.—The Lieutenant Governor of Illinois is in complete charge of affairs at Springfield and has full authority to take any action he deems necessary to aid mine operators in re-opening their pits. Governor Len Small said here tonight when asked what he planned to do to comply with President Harding's request that the governments of coal producing states assist operators who desire to resume production.

Governor Small said he thought it unlikely that a declaration of martial law in the mining areas would be necessary to insure peaceable operation of the mines.

Returns Next Week

The governor will not return to Springfield until next week and said he would have nothing to do with official affairs until that time.

"I haven't known nearly as much of what has been going on for the past week, as the average private citizen," the governor said, adding that he had read newspapers very little during his vacation and had tried not to think of official business.

Governor Small, with his son-in-law Lieutenant Colonel Arthur English of the Illinois National guard, inspected Illinois artillery regiments at Camp Custer this afternoon, along with Major General Foreman, head of the Illinois outfit undergoing summer training here.

The governor plans to leave Battle Creek tomorrow.

FORMER CHAMPIONS FALL BEFORE CHICK EVANS GREAT PLAY

Wins Midlothian Cup Second Year in Succession

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 19.—The defeat of two former champions in one day was the feat performed today by Chick Evans, formerly national open and amateur golf champion in winning the Midlothian annual invitation cup for the second year in succession.

In the forenoon semi-finals, Evans downed Davis Herron of Chicago, national amateur champion in 1919, 3 and 2, taking 74 strokes to Herron's 77. Then, in the finals he outplayed Willie I. Hunter of England, formerly British Amateur title holder and with a par 72 won the verdict 2 and 1, despite some poor putting, as the Briton took 74 strokes. Both Evans and Hunter took 38 strokes for the first nine and turned all square, but Chick made no mistakes on the homeward journey, losing only the long 16th to Hunter's birdie 4.

Hunter won the right to play Evans in the finals by defeating Fred Wright of Los Angeles 1 up, after turning 1 down, largely through Wright's penchant for the rough, which he got into no fewer than 7 times from the tee. The Briton took 75 strokes to the Californian's 76.

MUCH MYSTERY MARKS HAGUE PROCEEDINGS

(By The Associated Press)
THE HAGUE, July 19.—Mystery marked the Hague proceedings today and the conference ended in an uncertain manner. After Maxim Litvinoff, head of the soviet delegation, had proposed to submit to Moscow a recommendation to acknowledge pre-war debts and admit the general principle of compensation for foreign property, there was a temporary effort on the part of the non-Russian delegates to create the impression that the Russians had yielded materially.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., July 19.—Chicago and Northwestern officials were notified tonight that four local passenger trains between Clinton and Des Moines would be discontinued Friday. The coal shortage was given as the reason.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Aged Odd Job Man

Authorities Look for Unfolding of Secret of Heritage That the Interested of Two Continents Seek to Solve—May be Lineal Descendant of Charles II—British Consul, Police, Public Administrator, Seek Solution

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 19.—The body of an eccentric old night watchman and odd job man, lying unclaimed in Kings County morgue tonight locked a secret of heritage that authorities of two continents were seeking to solve.

Was Edward Euston, as he was known in the little Brooklyn lodging house where the body was found, a lineal descendant of Charles II, and the "black sheep" eldest son of the late Duke of Grafton—entitled to the vast estates and all the hereditaments now enjoyed by his second son of the late Duke? Was he a member at all of the ancient family of Fitz Roy? Or was it merely coincidence that the man should have selected clippings dealing with the affairs of the Fitz Roes to cherish among his dearest possessions?

Authorities Puzzled.

These are questions the police, the British consul and the public administrator have been trying to clear up since they discovered the clippings beneath the tattered carpet of his room.

Euston, who was night watchman for a steamship company and erstwhile applicant for odd jobs at Salvation Army headquarters, died several days ago after languishing in his room for nearly a week, repulsing the proffered attentions of his landlady and disdaining medical aid. His death excited little comment until a detective found his treasure cache.

Old Man's Possessions.

The treasure consisted of a dime-a-week life insurance policy "to assure me decent Christian burial," a photograph obviously of the dead man, the taken years ago, when its subject was in his prime, and when he wore the clothes of an English gentleman as one of the manner born; the clippings—and a Masonic apron.

On one clipping regarding the present duke, which Euston had pasted to the back of his photograph—as if he would have said "there but for the curse of fate go I"—the authorities began to build up the theory that the dead night watchman might have been the real duke of Grafton.

One Clipping Found.

This clipping read:

"Lord Euston is a widower of 64 and father of three children—Lady Lillian, who married July 20, 1910, Charles Robertson, late of the ministry of education in Egypt; Lady Margaret Fitz Roy and Viscount Epswich. The viscount is 30 years old, being eight months the junior of Lady Lillian and 17 months younger than Lady Margaret."

"Lord Euston married April 27, 1875, a daughter of Eric Carlington, Smith, of Stonewich, Sussex. She died March 10, 1918. Today, Monday is the Duke of Grafton's birthday. He is a veteran of the Crimean war and was badly wounded at the battle of Inkerman."

The theory was further strengthened, in the opinion of detectives on the case by the presence of the Masonic apron. Lord Euston it was pointed out, stood high in Masonry and several times had come to America as the personal emissary of the late King Edward VII to greet Masonic gatherings. On the other hand the theory received its first setback tonight, in the opinion of investigators, when it was learned that the insurance policy was issued to Edward Euston on July 16, 1897. Lord Euston was known to have been in London involved in debt litigation as late as 1903.

No Beneficiary Named

No beneficiary was named in the policy in the application for which Euston described himself as "a cook," single, and said he was born in New York, April 20, 1860.

Euston was known at the Brooklyn Public Library as an ardent peruser of English newspapers.

Delvers who went thru musty newspaper files, liberally sprinkled with debris of British nobility, found much to support, and little to discredit the theory. (Continued on Page Four.)

IOWA PREPARING TO HOUSE FORCE OF PEACE OFFICERS

Thought That Many Would Return to Work if Protected

(By The Associated Press)
COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, July 19.—Extensive preparations were under way today, under direction of Sheriff Gruneweg, acting, he said, on authority of Governor Kendall, for augmenting and housing the force of peace officers on strike duty here.

Headquarters and accommodations for 100 additional deputy sheriffs and deputy United States marshals have been established in a large building near the railroad yards.

New men were being sworn in today and immediately placed on duty. Small forces of armed men are being placed at all railroad yards and a larger force is being maintained at headquarters, armed and with automobiles at their command. Telephone lines have been installed from headquarters to all railroad yards.

Move for Protection

The reason for the move has not been stated but it was intimated that: railroads had assured the state and federal government that a considerable number of their old men would return to work if given the proper protection.

Illinois Central and Union Pacific railroad attorneys filed affidavits in federal court of numerous alleged instances of interfering with strike breakers, supporting their demand that the temporar order restraining the striking railroad men from interference with the railroads' operation, be made permanent. Kidnapping of imported workmen is charged. Hearing on a permanent order was proposed earlier in the day.

SERVICE COMPANY SHORT OF COAL

(By The Associated Press)
MUDDY, Ill., July 19.—The Central Illinois Public Service plant, which supplies light for about 30 southern Illinois cities, including Harrisburg, Marion, Carbondale, Eldorado, West Frankfort, Shawneetown and Anne has only 10 days supply of coal. This plant also operates the interurban line from Eldorado to Carrier Mills.

Efforts are being made to get permission from state President Frank Farrington of the United Mine Workers to let union men here operate one mine to keep the plant in operation. His decision is expected tomorrow.

ORDERS REMOVAL OF WIRE BARRICADES

(By The Associated Press)
CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., July 19.—On complaint of railway strike leaders city officials today ordered the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway to remove a barbed wire barricade which surrounded the shops where non-union men are being put to work. The company was given until Monday to comply with the order which was issued pursuant to a city ordinance prohibiting stretching barbed wire within the city limits.

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE DEFIES KANSAS COURT

Exhibits Placard Expressing Sympathy
for Strikers

(By The Associated Press)
EMPORIA, Kans., July 19.—William Allen White, editor of the Emporia Gazette today defied the Kansas court of industrial relations by placing a contraband placard expressing sympathy for the striking shopmen in the window of the Gazette office. Mr. White posted the placard after he had been informed that the attorney general had ruled it against the industrial and anti-syndicalism law.

The poster expressed sympathy for the strikers in their announced stand for "living wages and fair working conditions." In today's Gazette, Mr. White explained his stand.

Free Press Involved

"The order of the industrial court is an infamous infraction of the right of free press and free speech," White writes. "Certainly it has not come to pass in this country that a man may not say what he thinks about an industrial controversy without disobeying the law."

"If the government desires to make a test case, here it is," says the editor. "It is not a question of whether men are right or wrong, but a question of the right of an American citizen, white and twenty one, to say what he pleases about the strike. Placards expressing '100 per cent' sympathy for the striking shopmen appeared during the past few days in local store windows. White changed the sign in his window, making it read 49 per cent 'for the striking railroad shopmen' saying he would add one per cent every day the strike lasts."

NORTHWESTERN ROAD IS FACING STRIKE OF ITS CLERICAL FORCE

Recite Many Grievances as Cause for Decision
Reached

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 19.—A strike of 7,300 clerks on the Chicago & Northwestern railroad hung in the balance tonight, depending entirely upon the decision of General Manager Frank Walters to be announced when conference between the management and union officials is resumed tomorrow morning.

This statement was made by George A. Worrell, chairman of the Chicago & Northwestern clerks after a conference with Mr. Walters.

The situation of the Chicago & Northwestern, Mr. Worrell said, is different from that on any other road entering Chicago.

"Our men," averred Mr. Worrell, "have been denied vacation rights, half holiday on Saturday afternoon, time and one-half pay for overtime, and sick benefit. No other road in Chicago has cut off these gratuities."

Authorization for a strike unless an agreement is reached tomorrow has been given by Grand President E. H. Fitzgerald, Mr. Forrell said.

YOEMEN TO FOLLOW MOOSE EXAMPLE

The Chamber of Commerce here has been asked to find a suitable site.

It is proposed to establish a village of 125 cottages, with schools, churches, gymnasiums, stores, parks and play grounds where children and families of deceased members of the lodge can be cared for.

SENIORITY ISSUE PRINCIPAL OBSTACLE TO RAIL SETTLEMENT

Chairman Hooper Corroborated in Statement No Further Peace Conferences Being Held and That "Seniority Issue" is Principal Stumbling Block in Negotiations

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 19.—Railroad executives thru the western president's committee on public relations of the association of railway executives issued a statement tonight corroborating Chairman Hooper's statement that no further peace conferences were being held and that the seniority issue was the principal stumbling block.

Chairman Hooper's statement said a conference was held Saturday between B. M. Jewell, head of the shopmen, A. O. Wharton, labor member of the board and Mr. Hooper and heads of the seven striking organizations when Mr. Jewell indicated he would be willing to submit to his committee an agreed program if the carriers concurred in it.

The program, Mr. Hooper's statement said, was as follows: "First—That the carriers which which had arbitrarily changed the working conditions of the employees represented by said seven organizations by means of the contract system in violation of the railroad labor board's decisions should withdraw from this practice. This applied to only a few roads, as the others had announced their willingness to cancel such contracts. The principal of those that have not yet made such announcement are the Erie and Western Maryland."

"Second—That the authority granted the transportation act to the carriers and their employees to set up an adjustment board or boards to be exercised by the establishment of a national adjustment board, with the entire jurisdiction authorized by said act, namely, the hearing of all disputes except those affecting the wages."

"Third—That the employees involved in the strike proceed in conformity with the transportation act in the settlement of the disputed rules and wages, seeking from the railroad labor board a re-hearing of the recent wage decision and promptly submitting the seven disputed rules to the adjustment board, with the statutory right of appeal to the labor board."

"Fourth—The carriers to withdraw or dismiss all lawsuits growing out of the strike."

"Fifth—All men now on strike those laid off, furloughed or on leave of absence to be returned to work and their former positions, with seniority rights unimpaired."

"As a method for securing a fair and equitable settlement of the railroad labor board should call a hearing for that purpose."

Mr. Hooper, discussing the negotiations, said he had submitted the proposition to several railway executives with the agreement that if a tentative agreement could be reached it was to be submitted to other executives. Mr. Hooper said he understood the program had been laid before a large number of executives.

The Stumbling Block

"My investigation of the attitude of the carriers has convinced me," his statement said, "that no serious obstacle is to be found in any of the items above enumerated, except the fifth."

Only 16 to 21 class one roads had entered into the contracting out of shop work and most of the 16 have discontinued it the statement said and added that "the great majority of the carriers would be pleased to see the few remaining roads withdraw from it."

The carriers raised no objections to opening the wage decision and the dispute regarding seven protested rules, he said and added that "the fore going disposition of contracts, wages and rules would remove from conflict all three of the questions upon which strike votes were taken."

Mr. Hooper said many roads are willing to have regional boards, some are willing to have a national adjustment board and some favored boards on each individual road.

"An agreement of some sort doubtless could be reached upon this matter," he said.

The Carriers Promise

The carriers, Mr. Hooper said, have promised to employ men who have been out on strike if (Continued on Page Four.)

HARDING INVITE GETS "NO" FROM TWO GOVERNORS

Both Coal and Rail
Trouble Receiving
Close Attention

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 19.—While government interest in the industrial situation continued to be centered today chiefly in the coal strike and particularly in the reaction from President Harding's invitation to governors of coal producing states that they cooperate with him in the effort to reopen the mines, evidence was not lacking that the coal and railroad strikes were co-related at least in effect.

Unofficial reports received here brought further details of reduction in coal output, because of inadequate car supply with the result, it was said, that production was tending more than ever to be confined to non-union fields.

Two Governors Say "No"

With but two exceptions, the governors who replied to President Harding's telegram today pledged their co-operation and support to the federal administration without qualification. Governor Morrison of North Carolina replied in a decided negative, asserting that so far as he knew there were no strike troubles in the mining industry of that state and it would be a "vain thing" for him to "invite coal miners to return to work."

Governor Trinkle, of Virginia, in his reply called attention to the small amount of coal produced in that state.

Lewis Cheerful

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, maintained his cheerful attitude, declaring that after 16 weeks of strike, the ranks of the men who had quit work were being constantly augmented.

A plea to union labor to support the men on strike, in both the railroad and mining industries, was sent out by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who emphasized the necessity of confining such support to peaceful, "law abiding methods." Mr. Gompers was in conference with Chairman Borah of the senate labor committee, and Senators Walsh of Massachusetts and King of Utah. No conclusions were reached, it was said, but Mr. Borah expressed himself later as more optimistic of a settlement in both controversies than he had been prior to the meeting.

War Department Quiet

No additional reports on the coal strike situation have reached the war department, nor have any further steps been found necessary to prepare the army for any part it may be called upon to play. It was made plain that if it became necessary to employ federal forces to support the national guard of any state in protecting mine workers from interference, the regular army first would be used and the (Continued on Page Four.)

A THOUGHT

Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way; and he that hateth reproval shall die.—Proverbs 15:10.

No man ever felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law.—Trumbull in "McFingal."

An effort is being made to secure enlistments for the local howitzer company. Young men who enlist in the company at this time will go almost immediately into camp at Camp Grant. Nearly three weeks valuable army training will be provided. Here is a chance for some of the young men of the community to do a real public service.

Taking into account the railroad situation, the coal strike and some other important matters that now press for solution, one can understand what President Harding meant when he told an audience at Marion that he longed for the time to come when he would be regularly at home again.

While worrying about the difficulties of railroad transportation just remember that even a complete railroad tieup would not be nearly so serious a matter now as it was a few years ago. There are miles of hard roads now that did not exist then, and the ownership of automobiles is increasing at the rate of about a million a year.

Local coal men who have kept in touch with market conditions have been interested in noting the very rapid rise in the price of Kentucky coal. Yesterday the quotations were $7.50 at the mine. Two days earlier the quotations were $6.90 and a few days before $5.75. Two weeks ago Kentucky coal could be purchased at the mines at $4.50 per ton.

These rapid and unwarranted increases have been made notwithstanding the fact that the operators were alleged to have agreed with Secretary Hoover that a maximum price of $3.50 per ton was proper. Now these same operators claim that they are not boosting the prices, but are simply accepting the bids made by Chicago dealers. The competition to secure coal is so acute that the dealers boost the market each day and so the present ridiculous prices are prevailing.

It is conditions of this kind that will help in centering public attention on a situation that certainly needs remedying.

THE AMERICAN MAN

From New York Tribune.
Mrs. Asquith runs true to form in her criticism of American men as published in McCall's Magazine. She found little to admire here. Men in this country are uncultured, lack individuality; they know prices, but not values; they are intelligent; they work too hard and do not appreciate leisure; they are moral, but do not develop their souls—and, of course, they are money-grabbers.

The money-grabbing indictment always seems particularly amusing when applied to Americans by an English lecturer just after he or she has sailed away with pockets stuffed. Money grabbing is a cosmopolitan pastime. The English nation is no exception, though the Englishman may show better form and have learned not to appear greedy. Mrs. Asquith's own class worships money with much devotion, feeling they must have it not merely to live but to avoid being declassed. That the American is uncultured in that he does not know art or music or books is no doubt true in the average; but he may be more civilized in some respects. He thinks of his family's comfort. That is why leisure does not seem so important to him as getting the wherewithal to give not himself but his family the best there is. Perhaps he doesn't share his business troubles with his wife as much as he should. He shares everything else with her, even the opera, whether he likes it or not.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

THE GAMBLER

By Berton Braley

I KNOW that charts statistical
Will show you shouldn't marry
Until your honorarium
Is quite extraordinary.
But I am optimistic
About what love can do,
For in its sweet delirium
Most any dream comes true.

So, go ahead and marry her,
Before you lose romance,
For love leaps every barrier
If you will take a chance.

LIFE'S brief; you lose the fun of it
Unless you share together
Some seasons of frugality.
Some times of heavy weather.
Luck varies—face the run of it
And, spite of strain and stress,
You'll find that life's totality
Foots up to happiness!

So, go ahead and marry her,
Dull figures do not count—
There isn't any barrier
That love cannot surmount.

I KNOW I'm preaching heresy,
So cautious folks revere,
But if you have a salary,
That's big enough to meet
Food, rent, and clothes, I swear I see
Small reason for delay.
Although the cynic's gallery
May have a lot to say.

So, go ahead and marry her,
Forget the cautious stuff,
For poverty's no barrier
If you have love enough!

R. B. Wallace Observes Seventy-Eighth Birthday in Fitting Manner—Other Chapin Items.

Chapin, July 15.—Mrs. Charles Nergenhah entertained at a family dinner Sunday in honor of the seventy-eighth birthday of her father, R. B. Wallace. Mrs. Nergenhah served a friend chicken dinner with all the good things that go with it and that she knows so well how to prepare. The guests were: R. W. Wallace, J. W. Wallace and family and Mrs. Vortman.

Tuesday night a number of relatives and friends met at the home of R. B. Wallace and continued the birthday celebration. Mr. Wallace is one of very few remaining Civil War veterans in this neighborhood. Those present Tuesday night were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nergenhah, Harold Nergenhah, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wallace and children, Mrs. Vortman, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hill, Mrs. Roy Hill and daughter of Keewano, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lindenberg of Keewano.

Leland Bartholm, Arlo Schumacher, Fred Thompson and Delbert Aufdenkamp are spending the week-end at the University of Illinois. The boys represent the class in vocational agriculture in a State Live Stock judging contest. The instructor, Mr. Hess, has accompanied the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Woodward returned Tuesday night from their automobile trip to Atwater. They reported excellent roads except in the vicinity of Virden. They were accompanied on their trip by their grandson, Francis Brownlow of Chicago, who is spending some time with them. Mrs. Woodward was pleased to report to the many friends of the Fry family that Mrs. Fry was fully recovered from a severe operation of last winter and is apparently in much better health than when she resided here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Fox and Miss Isabelle Fox spent the day in Jacksonville Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Alderson visited at the home of Mrs. Minnie Coultas at Markham Tuesday.

Harry Waters recently purchased the blacksmith shop from Mrs. George Antrobus. Consideration $1,000.

A FRIENDLY TRIBUTE

O. J.'s recent article on the Scotch in this vicinity includes the name of Russell. Never was there in this region a more noble and generous family. Kindness and good will were their characteristics. A saint was Miss Elizabeth, always doing good and as unostentatiously as possible. A woman was left without means. She was high spirited and dreaded public charity. Miss Elizabeth took her and kept her as long as she lived. She was in no possible manner obligated; had not even been an intimate friend before the woman was left alone. For years she would go to a well known grocer with two hundred dollars and tell him to use it for the benefit of poor people and say nothing about the source. She was constantly doing good in such unknown ways as this.

Never shall I forget when coming to the city, a struggling, poor boy trying to work his way thru college. I applied for work at the Russell lumber yard. Mr. Russell at that time was paying his yard men $1.50 a day but when Saturday night came he handed me twelve dollars. I called his attention to it and he waived me aside remarking it was all right; I could help sell lumber if I need be. I tried to thank him but he said it was unnecessary; he didn't see as he had done anything deserving gratitude.

I wanted to build my mother a home and he let me have the lumber and waited a year for the money. When I went into a bank he signed my bond and did other things for me. I have built a number of houses since that time and always included in the contract that the lumber come from Russell. One day a friend in the same business asked me why I never traded with him and I explained that I didn't want to deserve the name of a low lived, dag. He replied that was rather severe language but when I explained the facts he admitted I was wholly right.

And right here I would like to mention another nature's nobleman, the late W. C. Carter. I needed some money for that house and asked him if he could spare me a little. He asked me how much and I said I thought I could get along with three or four hundred dollars. "You don't open your mouth wide enough," was the reply and he handed me five hundred. That occurred twice and neither note, interest or security was asked.

Another friend whom I shall ever remember was the late E. R. Elliott, one of the founders of the Elliott State bank. He seemed to take pleasure in granting me favors, repeatedly loaning me money and not once asking security or interest.

One day, years afterward, when I was in business he came into my store to make a purchase and remembering his many acts of kindness I put the article much below regular price but he remarked, "Sam, that isn't enough" and insisted on paying me regular price. F. Glass, who built the house in which he lived so long lost $1700 on the contract and Mr. Elliott paid him that sum remarking he couldn't bear to live in a house which lost an honest man money.

DOLLAR DAY POSTERS GO UP FRIDAY

Men Will Placard the County for Dollar Day and the Fair.

Friday is the day named by the committee for Dollar Day advertising as the day to placard the county with posters advertising the event. As the men will cover all adjacent territory it was deemed wise to take along fair ads as well.

The men will travel in pairs by automobiles and will post the bills on all points of the compass. Ads will also be inserted in the newspapers of the tributary towns.

Sixty names of merchants willing to co-operate in the Dollar Day scheme have been brought in and the committee has hopes of getting yet more as all the solicitors have not yet reported.

All the territory will be covered by the ad men in one day, leaving plenty of time for the posters to do their work.

The complete Dollar Day committee will meet in the chamber of commerce rooms at nine thirty this morning, the solicitors will make their reports and the big day will be discussed.

Following are the names of the various bill posting teams and their territories:

1. Ed Tomlinson and C. E. Hudgin will go to Arnold, Orleans, Alexander, Old Berlin and New Berlin.

2. J. C. Lukeman and G. W. Vasconcellos — Woodson, Murrayville, Manchester, Roodhouse and Whitehall.

3. Henry Smith and Charles Cully—Lynnville, Winchester, Riggs, Merit, Valley City, Pittsfield and Griggsville.

4. Fletcher Hopper and L. L. Horan—Markham, Chapin, Bluffs, Meredosia, Concord, Arenzville and Beardstown.

5. Hugh Breeden and Clarence York—Liberberry, Virginia, Philadelphia, Prentice, Ashland, Sinclair, Strawn's Crossing, Pleasant Plains.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price ranges from 20 to 25% less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4½-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long-discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

who have remained on duty to operate pumps and prevent flooding of the property might be withdrawn in view of the government's attitude, it was made clear at the war department that the business of keeping the pumps at work was looked upon as primarily the duty of the mine operators.

Seek Local Action

In Wyoming and Michigan, movements were reported to bring about local settlements in the coal strike, but national leaders of the miners' union took occasion to renege assertions that local settlements would not be allowed until a national agreement had become effective.

President Lewis said that maintenance men in the mines, who keep the pumps working and the mine galleries clear from falling strata while the production is stopped, would stay at work everywhere, until strike breakers were brought in.

There were some tentative negotiations still under way between operators who are willing to sign a contract with the union on an interstate basis, fixing wages and working conditions and Mr. Lewis and the other national officials. Michael Galleher, president of the Pittsburgh Vein Operators Association, in Ohio, and associates who control an output of 20,000,000 tons of bituminous coal per annum, have been chiefly active in the attempt.

Mr. Lewis said tonight that while the union was willing to negotiate representative tonnage in Illinois, Indiana and Western Pennsylvania could be added, the amount at present in sight was insufficient to allow him to proceed. While the Ohio group continued its activities, other operators whose association was demanded by the union were adverse to the proposals up to the time of leaving conferences in Washington.

Herrin Opposed

Herrin, Ill., July 19.—President Harding's plan of re-opening the coal mines under protection of national guardsmen and federal troops, if necessary, was opposed in resolutions adopted at a meeting of professional and business men and miners of 10 cities in Williamson, Franklin and Jackson counties, a large coal mining district, here this afternoon.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF AGED ODD JOB MAN

(Continued from Page One.) what he really was the Duke of Grange, and that he had dropped out of sight, disgraced, in favor of his younger brother, in the compulsion of a "strange quirk of chivalry," that ran in the family and that had wrecked his life and that of one of his sisters.

What Records Show.

Nearly a half century ago the records showed, the young Earl of Euston, heir to the Dukedom of Grafton, fell desperately in love with a notorious demi-monde of London—Kate Walsh, a woman a dozen years older than himself—and scandalized his family by contracting a marriage with her. Then, horrified at what he had done, he turned over to her all his money and went to Australia to begin life anew.

Meantime, his friends at home were seeking some means by which the marriage could be upset. Finally word was flashed to him that there was hope. It had been discovered, the message said that Kate Walsh had had another living husband when she married Lord Euston. Hence, his marriage to her was invalid. Overjoyed, the young lord hurried home and began proceedings for an annulment. Search was made for George Manley Smith, the alleged first husband. Finally he was found and agreed to testify for Lord Euston.

But the wife's lawyers hurled a bombshell into the annulment proceedings by proving from Smith's own lips on cross examination that he himself, had had another wife when he married Kate Walsh. The court held that the woman's first marriage was invalid and that the subsequent ceremony making the Lady Euston was legal and binding. She remained Lady Euston until her death.

Proud of Name.

Edward Euston's landlady said the dead watchman had been proud of his name, Euston.

Lord Euston's troubles did not stop with the death of Kate Walsh. The records show that he was involved in other scandals—London—one with a chorus girl—and finally, in 1903 he was twice declared a bankrupt. Late that year he left England for America.

There is a long gap in the record. Then in 1912, the record set forth that Lord Euston had died.

Peerage records at the British consulate here tally with newspaper clippings in their barrenness of details of his death. There was no date save the year. There was nothing to show where Lord Euston died, or how he died.

VIENNA, July 19.—The minister of finance today issued an order forbidding private trading in foreign moneys in Austria, altho permitting travelers to buy sufficient amounts to leave the country.

DROWNS IN TROUGH

ALL HEADS IN RAIL STRIKE CONTROVERSY DRAWING CLOSER

Continued from Page 1 they have not been guilty of breaches of peace and the destruction of property, but refused to give them seniority over those who have remained at work.

Mr. Warton set forth the position of the shop crafts with regard to seniority by asserting that "any settlement of the present controversy which has for its object the restoration of harmonious relations" and the efficient operation of shops must take into consideration the restoration of the men involved to their status as employees as of date prior to the stoppage of work."

He maintained the great majority of these men are permanently located and are more desirable employees than those now taking their places that it will be in unusual position if the carriers deny the request of the organization in this respect "when by so doing they prevent the possibility of a settlement" that no organization has heretofore been called upon to make such a sacrifice to obtain a settlement and that "this action on the part of the part of the carriers will place the full responsibility of a continuation of the strike with the inevitable consequences resulting therefrom."

Jewell Uncommunicative

Mr. Jewell, when informed of the statements of Chairman Hooper and the railroad executives refused to comment. He said he would have to read the statements carefully and take them up with his executive committee before anything could be said.

E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of way union, today made public a letter he received from Mr. Jewell disposing of reports that there was hard feeling between the shophmen and maintenance of way union because the maintenance of way organization had decided against a strike. Mr. Jewell asserted the shophmen were "delighted" that the maintenance of way union had found a way out of the difficulties confronting it that will bring justice to the membership.

The statement of the western presidents committee regarding the strike situation said in part: "The public should be clearly advised of what is involved in 'this question of seniority rights.' Seniority is based on length of continuous service and determines who has the right to work. In every railroad shop there is a list of men whose names appear in the order of their length of service those oldest in point of service being at the top of the list, those newest in the service at the bottom. On most railroads there are enough places now for all the men employed and all who struck. If, therefore, the strikers should all be allowed to go back with their former seniority rights many of the men now at work would have to be laid off. Furthermore, in periods when shops are not being run to their capacity the position on the seniority list determine what men shall be kept and what men laid off. The position on the seniority list carries with it other rights and privileges, but the foregoing are the most important rights now involved."

FAITHFUL HORSE WILL BE PENSIONED

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—As fitting reward for his many years of faithful service "Tom" veteran railroad horse employed in the Southern Pacific Company's mill at West Oakland, California, is to be "pensioned" and sent to a ranch to spend the remainder of his days in equine bliss.

To add to "Tom's" cup of happiness, it has been decided to send him to the ranch of his former master, also a retired Southern Pacific veteran, F. V. Carman, formerly superintendent of the West Oakland mill, and well known inventor, who recently retired from active duty after 47 years of service with the company.

For 12 years Tom has diligently served the company by hauling shavings, lumber and doing odd jobs about the mill yard, but a small tractor now stands supreme in the domain where Tom formerly ruled.

Thru his amicable disposition Tom is a favorite among West Oakland employees and children in the neighborhood, who often bring him lumps of sugar and other tidbits.

Carman's ranch is located near Modesto in the San Joaquin Valley and Tom is to be allowed to frolic in green pastures to his heart's delight.

WHEAT UNDERWENT A MATERIAL FALL

CHICAGO, July 19.—Wheat underwent a material fall in value today chiefly as a result of assumed likelihood that the railroad strike was nearing settlement. Prices closed nervous, 1c to 2½c net lower, with Sept.
$1.10½ to $1.11 and December
$1.13 to $1.13½. Corn gained 1c to 1c, oats lost 1c to 1c and provisions 7c to 29c up.

Beard effects of talk about improved chances for settlement of the railroad strike were most apparent in the July delivery of wheat, but later deliveries were also affected to a noticeable extent through the day. Selling pressure which became heavy at times in the wheat market was led by houses with eastern connections. Such rallies as took place were ascribed in the main to covering by shorts. In addition to more hopeful prospects for ending the railroad labor difficulty, winter wheat receipts at the principal centers were increasing, and the spring crop
news was favorable.

Special attention was given by estimates of export business in wheat as it was said that corn was being shipped to utilize vessel room which was originally booked for wheat. The highest estimate of wheat taken today for Europe was 500,000 bushels, whereas export sales were said to total 1,000,000 bushels.

Considerable strength developed in the corn market as the result of the activity of export demand. The bullish effect was offset by a statement that much corn was being consigned to Europe, with expectation of finding an outlet there owing to delay in the movement of Argentine corn.
Oats tended downward in value
with wheat.

Shipping call for lard was said to be expending somewhat, and offerings of all kinds of provisions were rather light.

trains arriving on or near schedule and enough freights running to accommodate all necessary commodities.

BUYS DIAMOND STREET PROPERTY

Norbury Sanatorium Company Acquires Title to Holdings Long Operated Under Lease.

A deed was placed on record yesterday showing the purchase of the property at 806 South Diamond street by the Norbury Sanatorium Co. This property, which includes six acres of land, has been used by the sanatorium company since its organization, but has been operated under lease.

The property was originally the home of Louis Hatfield, long prominent among the earlier business men of Jacksonville. Later it passed to the ownership of Dr. H. F. Carriel and has remained as a part of his estate until the transfer made yesterday.

The Norbury Sanatorium Co., enlarged the dwelling seen after acquiring its lease and a few years ago erected another building of cottage type on the grounds. It is understood that the company, which has been so successfully operated by Dr. F. P. Norbury, Dr. A. H. Dolbear and Vincent R. Riley, plans some betterments which will be made with passing months.

The Norbury Sanatorium, including the two properties on South Diamond street and Maple Crest, west of the city, has for years, ranked as one of the important business enterprises of the city. Seventy-five or eighty people are constantly given employment. In addition, the fact of the sanatorium brings many visitors to the city, and in various ways the Norbury Sanatorium Co. contributes to the business life of Jacksonville.

Those identified with the management are actively identified with community life and while successful and intent on building up their own business, have always been ready and willing to take into account the interests of the city as a whole.

MANY ELEVATORS FULL OF WHEAT

Others Still Receiving Grain—Price Offering Drops to Ninety Six Cents.

A. C. Rice was in New Berlin yesterday and found the elevator there practically full of grain. Mr. Rice said this same condition prevails at elevators in Alexandria, Orleans and Arnold. At Arnold the company has secured a large number of sacks and grain will be put in the sacks and stored in a cement house which has been used by the Lonergan Construction company.

Mr. Rice at New Berlin met Secretary Farlow of the Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Illinois, who is now on a tour visiting the farmers elevators throughout the state. Mr. Farlow said that nearly all of the farmers elevators are full of grain. This, however, is not true in every instance, and particularly along the Burlington, where the supply of cars seems to have been better than on the other roads.

Locally both the F. J. Blackburn Co. and the Lewis-Clary Co. are still receiving grain. This is true also of the other elevators in the county operated by these companies. Mr. Rice said further that on the basis of yesterday's market the elevators are offering 96c a bushel but were not anxious to buy on that basis because of the shortage of storage capacity.

If transportation difficulties continue and a rainy season sets in, the late movement of grain will be unfortunate for farmers, unless the weather is wet the delay will simply mean some inconvenience.

FUNERALS

SEEKING MEN FOR ENLISTMENT

Five Recruits Needed for Local Howitz'r Company—Men Leave Sunday Morning for Camp Grant.

At a meeting of the military affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, Capt. Wesley James of the Jacksonville Howitz'r company emphasized the need for five additional recruits for the company by Saturday night. The company is to leave on the Alton Hummer at 2:17 Sunday morning for seventeen days' training at Camp Grant. There is not sufficient time now to make a canvass for recruits, but Capt. James will be pleased to receive the applications of any young men interested.

The trip to Camp Grant will afford the opportunity for valuable experience, including shooting on the range with howitzers, trench mortars and pistols. The equipment at Camp Grant, where so many men were trained during the war time, is ample and the Illinois militiamen will be well cared for there.

Sufficient leave will be given to permit the visiting of various cities in northern Illinois. The work of packing equipment is under way and Capt. James takes the company thru a regular daily routine to put them in shape for camp life.

Announcements were made yesterday of a number of promotions in the company. William G. Flynn and Donald Williamson were advanced from the rank of troop to sergeant and Ellis H. Harbour and George H. Evers were promoted to corporals.

The young men in the company are enthusiastic in their work and would like to take five more with them to camp in order to make a larger showing for Jacksonville.

MORE ABOUT EARLY THRESHING METHODS

Waverly, July 19, 1922
Editor Journal.

You have recently printed a number of letters with reference to the early threshing of grain. I at one time owned what is called the ground hog. The separator and horse power were lifted off the wagon which hauled them over the country. Eight horses were used on the power, the farmer furnishing two. The wheat was very well cleaned with the exception of some small wheat which went over with the tailings and came out with chaff from the spool. It was picked up and run thru again and cleaned.

There was nothing to take the straw away from the separator. A man used his fork to throw it away from the separator to another man with a horse with long side chains hitched on both ends of a rail. This man would step on the rail and drag the straw away and then come back for the next load.

I have threshed fifty one years but have not done this sort of heavy work for the past six years. I plowed with a jumping coulter when a boy. There is a bull tongue in this settlement now, which was used to cover corn until the planter came in. But little corn plowing was done until the cultivator came into use.

Mr. Layman speaks of flails. They were common here, but I was too young to use them. Just as he did, I rode one horse and led three on the tramping floor. I have also worked with the tread mill of which he speaks. The bundles were bound by hand with straw. The separator was so small and the power so light that we had to untie them hand by hand. Mr. Layman mentions the progress which has been made since those early days, but I doubt if the men now are any more proud of their modern machines than were those men of their somewhat primitive equipment.

Yours truly,
R. S. GIVENS
P. S: I am over eighty years old and enjoying very good health for one of my years.

NEW COTTAGE AT BLIND INSTITUTION

Work has been started on the new cottage for Kindergarten children at the Illinois School for the Blind. The cottage is being built near the north west corner of the campus and will be a handsome structure. Heretofore there has not been enough room for convenient quarters for all of the younger students and the new building which is now going up will relieve the congestion.
